Thomas A. Dorsey
(1899-1993)

Thomas A. Dorsey was born in Villa Rica, Georgia in 1899. He was the son of Thomas M. Dorsey, Sr., a Baptist preacher and Etta Dorsey. As a child prodigy, Dorsey mastered several instruments in his childhood. Dorsey's early influence was blues great Bessie Smith.

In the late 1900's he joined the Ma Rainey Band, and a few years later became her musical director. As "Georgia Tom," he had an extensive blues career.

Dorsey was playing in wine rooms and buffet flats when he was converted at the National Baptist Convention in Chicago in 1921, after hearing the gospel song, "I Do, Don't You?." After his conversion, Dorsey became inspired to write gospel music. He published his first gospel song, "If You Were My Savior," in 1922. In 1938, he wrote his great masterpiece, "Precious Lord, Take My Hand." Considered the most widely sung gospel song in the world, it has been translated into more than twenty languages.

It is estimated that Dorsey has written over some 400 gospel songs. Considered the oldest pioneer of gospel music, Dorsey is known as the "Father of Gospel."
